Dear Student,

On behalf of the South African Institute of Chartered Accountants (SAICA), we want to congratulate you on choosing accounting.

It's an exciting career and this degree will equip you with skills that you can use in so many areas of business from corporate to entrepreneurship and everything in between.

What is SAICA?

SAICA stands for the South African Institute of Chartered Accountants – not only is it the professional body of Chartered Accountants, it's responsible for three reputable professional accounting and business designations.

These are the:

Why should you care?

Because once you've qualified as a SAICA member or associate, it enhances your employability, career moves and provide you with world-leading lifelong learning and development opportunities.

Benefits of being a SAICA Member/Associate

- Being a SAICA member or associate is a badge of professional competence that assures employers of your expertise and overall professional conduct.

Sounds great doesn't it? ...And it is!

- In return for these great benefits, SAICA, as the professional home for these three designations, expects only the highest level of professionalism, discipline and performance from its members and associates.

But don't worry too much about this because we're here to help you with that throughout your career. As a member or associate, SAICA will provide you with continuous professional development, networking opportunities and so much more. Now that you know why being part of SAICA is a good idea, let us tell you about the opportunity that lies ahead of you.

What is an AGA(SA)?

AGA(SA) is a technical accounting and business designation that transforms mid-tier accountants into highly skilled professionals who are able to integrate strategic and tactical financial operations with ease.

That sounds like a mouthful, but essentially as an AGA(SA), you can:

By fulfilling these management functions, AGAs(SA) are instrumental in:

Sounds good? We think so...

After all, as an AGA(SA), you benefit from a designation that will:
