

Presented by

Stafford Masie

SAICA will be launching a monthly CA(SA) of the Future Series in 2022.

This series helps members and associates to use their strengths and knowledge to leverage technology, be agile in the face of disruption and to create new digitally enabled business models and processes for the digital world. All this while providing responsible leadership that is purpose driven, sustainable, inclusive, and resilient to the challenges presented by the current economic climate.

Why you should attend

The series provides insights and foresight on several topics related to the future of the profession, technology, business, and global economies, ensuring that accountancy professionals stay at the forefront of the evolving world of work and business.

The series will assist you to:

- Gain insights and foresight on to the future of work, business, society, and the accountancy profession, centred around SAICA enabling competencies, thereby assisting you to adapt accordingly;
- Understand the evolving role of the accountancy profession in the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) and the evolving world of business;
- Enhance your awareness and competence on the digital acumen from experts and industry leaders discussing the latest trends, technologies, tools and how you can seize opportunities; and
- Understand how accountancy, finance, assurance, and consulting practices are evolving to add and create new, meaningful value to clients and society in response to changes in business needs from professionals.

Timing

This series will comprise of monthly sessions from February to November 2022, held on the last Tuesday of each month (starting 22 February 2022). The duration of each session will be a maximum two hours, with each session commencing at 9:00.

Presenters, booking and fee

Presenters will be announced over the course of 2022. Sessions will be facilitated by different experts and guest panellists with specialist knowledge.

The following costs are applicable for each session:

Type	Amount
Member ([CA(SA), AGA(SA) and AT(SA)])	R100
Non-member	R200
Trainee/Student	R50

The purpose of the series to assist members and associates to become well-rounded professionals who are relevant and suitable for the demands and expectation of the evolving world of work, through balanced competence that intentionally integrates enabling competencies and professional values and attitudes.